The Government of Indonesia (represented by the Ministry of Education and Culture, the Ministry of Religious Affairs and the Ministry of National Development Planning/ BAPPENAS, the Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID), the European Union (EU) and the Asian Development Bank (ADB) have established the Analytical and Capacity Development Partnership (ACDP) as a facility to promote policy dialogue and institutional and organizational reform of the education sector to underpin policy implementation and help reduce disparities in provincial and district education performance. The facility is an integral part of the Education Sector Support Program (ESSP) which consists of EU sector budget support with agreed arrangements for results-led grant disbursement, and earmarked policy and program-led AusAID sector development grant support consisting of a school infrastructure program, a nationwide district and school management development program and a program to accelerate the GOI's accreditation of private Islamic schools. This report has been prepared with grant support provided by AusAID and the EU through ACDP.

MAIN TEXT

1. INTRODUCTION

This paper forms a part of the work of ACDP 006 project on Free Basic Education Strategy Development. The Terms of Reference (ToR) of ACDP 006 specify the following development objectives, purpose and results for the project.

Development Objectives

The development objectives of the support to Free Basic Education Strategy Development are to contribute towards achieving medium to long term social and economic national development goals through the development of effective policies, strategies and programs for implementation of Free Basic Education in Indonesia.

Purpose and Results

The purpose of the support to Free Basic Education Strategy Development is to develop a comprehensive implementation strategy for free basic education. The intended results are therefore more effective policies, strategies, systems, financing, and capacity which will ensure that all children of primary and junior secondary school ages are able to access schooling that at least complies with the Minimum Service Standards for Basic Education.

2. PARENT CONTRIBUTIONS TO BASIC EDUCATION

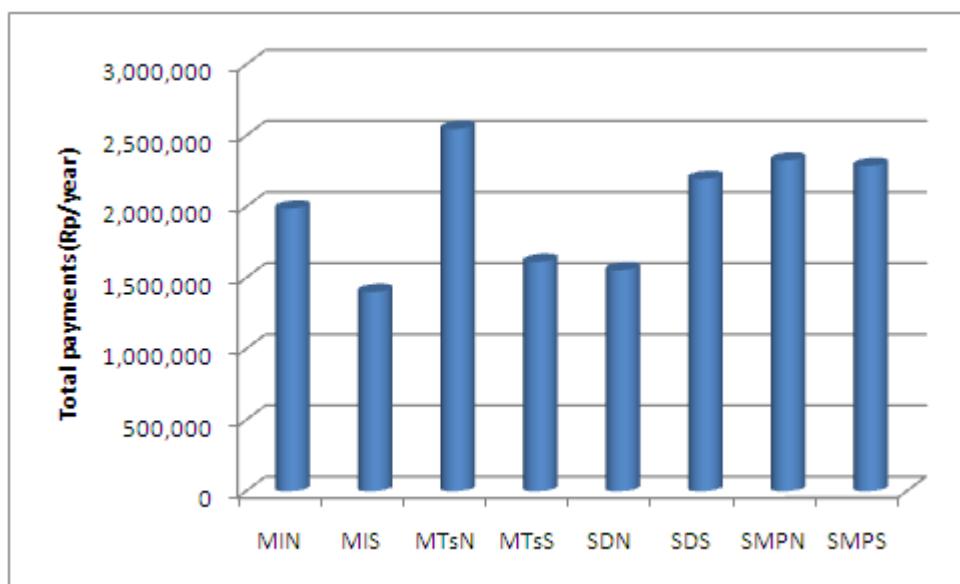

The legal framework of Indonesia's basic education system makes it clear that the government accepts primary responsibility for the provision of free basic education. As far as the government system is concerned, only International Standard schools are allowed to charge any fees, and even there, poor families have to be exempted. In the private system, fees can be charged where there is a gap between the school/madrasah current situation and either MSS or NES, but poor families also have to be exempted. The practice of charging fees has varied in the Indonesian system. Data from the Education and Social Module of the national census (SUSENAS) (Table 1, below) shows that contributions have changed significantly, with a strong trend of the contributions increasing over time.

Private MTs		776,182 (2006) 731,352 (2011)	1,261,060 (2009) 996,414 (2011)

The project's own survey, conducted in May-June 2012, also found that on average, parents incurred significant expenses associated with basic education of their children. Illustration 1, below, shows the scale of this expenditure.

Illustration 1. Total Parent Expenses for Basic Education Source: ACDP 006

Current regulations forbidding charging of fees in the government basic education system raise a question of how schools and madrasahs which currently operate at higher levels of quality can raise the funds necessary to sustain this quality. It is clear that they will need to raise considerable funds from parents, in the form of voluntary contributions. At present, the proportion of parental expenditure on education consumed by schools fees, defined as any contribution paid directly to the schools or school committees, varies substantially, being only 3.5% for state Primary Schools, but 27.5% for private Secondary Schools and 23.3% for private MTs's.

Table 2. Percentage of parent expenditure on education as school/madrasah fees

Type of school/mdrs.	Gov/ private	% percentage of expenditure as school/madrasah fees
MI	Gov	4.1%
	Private	11.0%
MTs	Gov	17.2%
	Private	23.3%
SD	Gov	3.5%
	Private	7.9%
SMP	Gov	15.2%
	Private	27.5%

The project's Survey of Parent Contribution to Basic Education undertook an examination of a range of documents from the schools/madrasahs in the survey, and these show that there are significant problems with accountability for the use of parent funds. In the course of administering the survey, the project obtained copies of school/madrasah reports on the use of BOS funding. It is a formal requirement that this report identifies and reports on all sources of funding, but only less than 10%, both government and private, reported on any sources of funding other than BOS, raising the presumption that money raised from parents by school committees and parent associations is frequently not reported by schools/madrasahs. Moreover, those schools/madrasahs which reported on the use of parent contributions, listed, on average, 42% of the expenditure of these funds as being in the category of "other". Data from both the Susenas and the ACDP survey shows that many parents don't pay any school fees, and that their main expenditure is on items such as uniforms, transport to school.

More than half of the parents in the survey stated that they would be willing to make contributions to their children's education if the funds were used to raise education quality. The breakdown of this data is provided in Table 3, below.

Table 3. Willingness of parents to make a contribution to the cost of educating their children, in order to improve the quality of education offered.

School/ Madrasah	Gov/ private	Willingness to make a contribution to improve quality of education				Total
		Yes		No
		N	%	N	%
MI	Gov	111	56.3	86	43.7	197	100
	Private	172	65.4	91	34.6	263	100
MTs	Gov	84	58.7	59	41.3	143	100
	Private	254	66.1	130	33.9	384	100
SD	Gov	486	58.1	350	41.9	836	100
	Private	153	71.8	60	28.2	213	100
SMP	Gov	299	73.6	107	26.4	406	100
	Private	267	78.8	72	21.2	339	100

Some of the parents who did not want to make a contribution also reported that the reason for their unwillingness is that they don't believe that money provided would really be used to raise education quality. There is therefore a pressing need to improve the accountability system and processes for use of parent funds.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY FRAMEWORK MATRIX

Key processes and references used it is construction included:

- Meetings of the High Level Technical Working Group
- Results of Focus Group Discussions in five provinces
- Individual and small group discussions with senior officers responsible for the national basic education system (Officers at Echelon Level 1, 2 and 3)
- The national legislative/regulatory basis of Indonesia's basic education system.
- Current basic education accountability systems and processes, with a particular focus at school/madrasah level.
- Technical guidelines for the use of BOS funds in both schools and madrasahs
- National Education Standards
- Minimum Service Standards
- Information from the National Consultation on FBE

The Framework provided in matrix format, below, covers not only schools, but the full system of basic education. In line with the ToR, however, accountability for schools/madrasahs received particular attention, and draft regulatory instruments have been developed for this purpose. They consist of planning and reporting instruments, and are closely aligned with instruments currently used as accountability tools for planning and reporting on the use of BOS funds.
